

SHERIFF BURCHARDT RECOGNIZES STUDENTS

Sheriff Stan Burchardt is pleased to announce twelve students as Sheriff Star Students of the Month for February, 2009.

Hillsdale High School:

Elizabeth A. Kimball, 10th grade, described as a student who demonstrates excellence in all areas of study; has a willingness to work with others within the community, and demonstrates leadership on and off the playing field, demonstrating outstanding sportsmanship.

Mackenzie M. Hill, 10th grade, described as a student with outstanding academic excellence, willingness to reach out to others, leader in many areas and possesses great sportsmanship.

Julianne M. Shaffer, 11th grade, described as a student leader who works exceptionally hard to maintain excellence in all areas of academic study as well as on and off the playing field.

Helen J. Haslem, 11th grade, described as a student who shows continued academic excellence, great sportsmanship and works exceptionally well with others.

Reading High School:

Kaci Seager, 9th grade, described as a student who does extremely well in school, excels in High School Band and is a hard class worker.

Nicole Marsh, 10th grade, described as a student who maintains a high G.P.A. along with being very active in extracurricular activities and was recently selected for the schools National Honor Society.

James Piner, 11th grade, described as a student who has completed his best semester academically and continues to push himself in all areas of life; also described as a leader in both the classroom and athletic areas.

Allison Simmons, 12th grade, described as one of the best students to go through the school system. She has maintained her 4.0 G.P.A. her entire school career and is very involved with school and sports.

Waldron High School:

Catelyn Fix, 9th grade, described as a polite kind individual who is always willing to help others. She is on the A/B Honor Roll and participates in JV Volleyball and Basketball.

Kelsey White, 10th grade, described as a student who was struggling academically, but through hard work has improved greatly and had the highest exam score in one class.

Mackenzie Price, 11th grade, described as a student who demonstrates academic excellence. She is on the straight A Honor Roll and is very involved in school sports participating in Varsity Volleyball, Basketball and Cheerleading.

Josh Fellows, 12th grade, described as a student who is on the A/B Honor Roll and a good leader. He is currently the School Council President and participates in Varsity Football and Basketball.

Participating schools decide why and who to recognize. Selected students will receive a certificate signed by the Sheriff, and will become role models to others in their class. Sheriff Burchardt knows the importance of students attending school as a way to increase their influence within society and promote their own future. Equally, if a student remains in school, the likelihood for them exploring or becoming a victim of criminal activity significantly decreases.

Congratulations to these outstanding students.
